

Lunch-and-Learn Program

Offer PDH Credits for Your Brown Bag Presentations

Welcome to PDH Pro, where we redefine the landscape of engineering professional development. As a premier provider of continuing education courses for professional engineers, we excel in creating synergies between your technical expertise and our educational platform.

Our Lunch-and-Learn Program enables manufacturers, equipment vendors, and technical sales experts to provide valuable continuing education credits to engineers and professionals. Your role is simple: deliver your expert presentation to your customers. We handle the rest, ensuring your presentation complies with all State Engineering Board and NCEES requirements for continuing education credits. Trust us to manage the certification, reporting, and record-keeping, streamlining the process for a hassle-free experience.

Opportunity for Partners

This program offers you many advantages:

- Brand Visibility: Enhance your brand's presence among engineering professionals.
- Educational Impact: Share your technical knowledge and contribute to the professional growth of engineers.
- Networking: Connect with a niche audience of engineers and industry leaders.

The Partnership Process - How It Works

We've made the onboarding process simple and efficient.

Step 1: Contact us to express your interest.

Step 2: We'll work together to vet your content for compliance with Engineering Board and NCEES guidelines.

Step 3: Host your session and direct participants to our platform for certification.

Get in Touch to Elevate Your Brand and Educate Engineers

- Email: partnerships@pdh-pro.com
- Phone: 508-298-4787
- Website: PDH-Pro.com

Connect with us now to begin a collaboration that not only enhances your brand visibility but also contributes significantly to the professional development and education of engineering professionals.